For simplification, the final report consists of separate documents and links (placed on my website at <http://maple.cs.umbc.edu/~nlozova/> under the “Project” tab) as follows:

- Research Paper
- Definitions (not alphabetized, because they were defined throughout the course of getting used to new material)
- Package Descriptions
- Dataset Descriptions
- Project Java Application
- Application Description
- Useful Links

Note: Before reading the research paper, read the definitions, as there are some uncommon terms used in the research paper. Any uncommon terms are defined in the definitions.
